MARKET OUTLOOK

During the month of December 2017, exports were valued at USD 27.03 billion vis-a-vis USD 24.05 billion during December 2016, registering a growth of 12.36%. On the other hand, imports grew at 21.12% and was valued at USD 41.9 billion as against USD 34.6 billion in December 2016. The commodity groups which showed high growth in December 2017 over December 2016 are Petroleum, Crude & Products (34.94%), Electronic Goods (19.2%), Pearls, Precious & Semi-Precious Stones (93.98%), Gold (71.52%) and Machinery, electrical & non-electrical (11.21%). In effect, the Trade Deficit for the month stood at USD 14.8 billion vis-a-vis the deficit of USD 10.5 billion during December 2016.

India's Consumer Price Index (CPI) was higher at 5.21% during the month of December vis-à-vis 4.88% during the previous month. The reason for increase has been the rise in the prices of Food and Beverages which rose by 4.85% as compared to 4.41% in the previous month. The biggest contributor to the price rise in this segment was Vegetables prices which shot up by 29.13% while the previous month's reading was 22.48%. The rising inflation continues to stress the central bank as it is going above the RBI's comfort zone. Hence, the expectation is that there could be a pause in the policy rates or the RBI could consider hiking rates in the coming months.

The industrial output as measured by the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) stood at 8.4% for the month of November as against 2.2% during the month of October. The major sectors like Mining, Manufacturing and Electricity registered growth rates of 1.1%, 10.2% and 3.9% respectively. On a Use-Based classification, Primary Goods, Capital Goods, Intermediate Goods, Infrastructure/Construction Goods, Consumer Durables and Non-Consumer Durables grew at 3.2%, 9.4%, 5.5%, 13.5%, 2.5% and 23.1% respectively. This data is a clear indication that the manufacturing sector is improving which is good for the long term growth of the economy.
